THREE FARMS IN THIS VICINITY
RESISTED INSPECTION — PEN-ALTY IS HEAVY.

GOVERNMENT IS DETERMINED
Ask Protection of Men Delegated to Slay Herds Afflicted With Foot
and Mouth Disease.

Stories of armed resistance to state and federal inspectors are being told by the Chicago newspapers, which say that farmers in three counties—Kane, Whiteside and McHenry—are resisting the authorities who come to inspect their farms and resist quarantine.

Lee county may also get herself into the limelight along these same lines if developments continue, for yesterday afternoon the federal and state inspectors were refused admittance to three farms within a short distance of Dixon.

The inspectors are not using harsh measures at present and if resistance to inspection is offered, they are disposed to be reasonable and to argue and explain things to the farm owner, if possible, but they have declared that patience can be exhausted and if the farmers continue to be stubborn and resist inspection, the inspection will be anyway and at any cost. There is an exceptionally heavy penalty for resistance of these officials while in discharge of their duty, and the government may start prosecutions soon, if sentiment does not change, it is said.

Barnett Stock Killed.

The stock on the Prindaville farm, occupied by C. C. Barnett was slaughtered yesterday by the federal authorities, the state officials not taking part in the work, with the consent of the owner, Attorney General Lucey, in his message to Representative Jno. P. Devine, had ruled that it was permissible for the owners of herds infected with the disease to take the responsibility to have the animals killed and that the state would be just as responsible for its share of the expense.

The Barnett place is in Grand Detour township, Ogle county.

Diversity of Opinion.

Representative Shurtliff, one of the most prominent objectors in this state to the slaughter of the cattle, is said to have changed over to the state's side of the fight, following arguments by the state officials which are said to have made him view the matter differently. Some of the prominent herd owners of this section of the country are also declaring their belief that the authorities are taking the proper course.

John Hoffman's Mother Tells of Swiss Troubles

John Hoffman of this city is in receipt of a letter from his aged mother at Biel, Switzerland, in which she describes the trials and anguish in many of the homes of the hamlets throughout the country of Switzerland. As all coal has to be shipped into the country as well as kerosene these articles cannot be secured at any price and as all work is at a standstill the poor people in many instances are in destitute circumstances.

The letter bears date of December 29, and Mrs. Hoffman states that on the day before as well as the day on which she was writing the letter, two trainloads of wounded German soldiers had passed through the town on their way from the fighting lines along the east border of France to Basel, Switzerland. From Basel, they cross the border over to the town of Hüntingen and are then on German soil. On Christmas day a Christmas tree was erected in the town and packages were brought by the women for Swiss soldiers, who are garrisoned along the border line of both France and Germany.

The town of Biel is practically in darkness at night, as the streets are lighted by gas lamps and the coal supply has run out, the have no way

Another Quake In Toe of Italy Early This Morn

Extent of Damage Is Not Known
Is Scene of Many Disasters

(Associated Press.)

Rome, Jan. 19.—It is reported that a strong earthquake occurred in Calabria, in the southwestern extremity of Italy, commonly called the "toe" of the mainland of the kingdom. It is not known whether there was loss of life or any serious damage. Disastrous earthquakes have been frequent there. The entire population of Cosenza, Paola, Amantea, Castrovillari and Rossano left their houses when the shock occurred. There were no victims in any of these towns.

Other Towns Suffered.

Today's reports indicate that some towns south of Avezzano suffered as badly as that city, and that the percentage of dead in these places is about as large as Avezzano's.

Relief measures in many towns are still inadequate and thousands are suffering from the terrible cold.

refused admission to the inspectors in this vicinity yesterday afternoon have not been given out.

Resist Officers.

The following article from the Chicago Tribune explains the situation in other districts today:

"Certain farmers in Kane, McHenry and Whiteside counties are reported to be resisting federal quarantine officers with shotguns and pitchforks. Dr. Robert Dille, an agent of the bureau of animal industry—was chased from a farm near St. Charles by an irate farmer.

Five cases of armed resistance have been reported to the bureau officials within the last three days. Yesterday Dr. S. E. Bennett, United States veterinarian in charge of the quarantine, appealed to District Attorney Clyne for protection for his deputies.

"Something must be done or I fear the worst will happen," Dr. Bennett told Mr. Clyne.

Slaughtering cattle exposed to the disease was resumed during the day by federal officials, despite the fact that state officials have not killed any stock in the state since the issuance of the injunction a week ago by Judge Irwin at Geneva.

Mr. Clyne announced that the government is ready to prosecute farmers offering resistance. If Dr. Bennett is given authority from Washington to go ahead complaints against farmers will be filed and their arrest and prosecution ordered.

Drastic Penalties.

Drastic penalties are provided for resistance of department of agriculture agents in the discharge of their duties. For assaults and unarmed resistance the maximum penalty is a

SUIT AGAINST THEM AND
JURY AWARDS $300

GEIGER VS. R.R. WEDNESDAY

Nelson Resident Charges a Delay in Shipment On C. & N. W. Caused
Damage—Horse Case From Viola.

The case of Elizabeth and Antoine Theiss against Jacob and Adam Kochler was tried in the circuit court Monday afternoon and the jury returned a verdict about 7 p. m. finding issues for the defendant and awarding him $300.

The defendant had rented a farm owned by the plaintiffs in Summit township and according to the bill filed in the case the defendants contended that the owners were to make repairs as needed on the place. Instead, it is alleged they allowed out-buildings and fences to run down and finally the defendants contended it was necessary for them to rebuild the hoghouse and incur other necessary expense and they refused to make the last payment of rent without being allowed to deduct the money so expended.

Hearing in Horse Case.

Tuesday morning in the court the case of Pettus vs. Fisher was called for hearing. This case is from Viola township and is the outgrowth of a misunderstanding over a horse. There is not a large amount of money involved in the case.

Damage Suit Against Railroad.

For Wednesday a damage suit brought by Thomas Geiger against the Northwestern road is set for trial. Mr. Geiger of Nelson township had a car of cattle shipped to him and he alleges that there was a delay in the delivery of the car, and as a result four of the cattle got down and were so badly injured they died.

BAILEY-ANDERSON DEBATE THIS EVE.

COMMUNITY TRAINING SCHOOL
CLASSES MEET THIS EVEN-ING AT Y. M. C. A.

The community training school classes will meet this evening at the Y. M. C. A. rooms. Following the regular classes a debate will be held between Prof. C. H. Anderson and Secretary E. T. Bailey on "Graded Lessons for Sunday School Are More Beneficial Than the Old International Lessons." Prof. Anderson will take the affirmative side of the question while Mr. Bailey will have the negative side. Both men have made preparations for the debate and have dug up many logical points, as they consider, that will bear out their arguments for their side of the question.

Epidemic May Have Effect On Speaker Fight

Experts Today Urged General Assembly To Take
Prompt Action

(Associated Press.)

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 19.—Immediate and effective steps to eradicate the foot and mouth disease among Illinois cattle was urged on members of the General Assembly today by the livestock experts of the United States bureau of Animal Industry and of various states.

It is not improbable that the scare over the situation may have a decisive effect on the speakership deadlock. After four unsuccessful ballots on the speakership the house adjourned and turned its attention to a discussion of the foot and mouth epidemic.

SUNDAY WAS BIG DAY AT REVIVAL

INTEREST INCREASES IN REVI-VAL AT UNITED EVANGELI-CAL CHURCH.

Sunday was a big day for the United Evangelical church in North Dixon. Full houses greeted the pastor, John Divan, and his singing assistant, Robert G. Munday, of Chicago. The choir of 30 voices, under Mr. Munday's direction, sang several selections and Miss Minnie Zigler and Mr. Munday rendered a beautiful duet.

Last night was "Father's Night," under the direction of the officers of the church. The attendance was large for Monday night.

The Woman's Missionary society are responsible for seeing that the church is packed this evening and are making every effort toward that end. Special singing has been provided and a good sermon is assured. All are invited to attend.

Tomorrow night will be K. L. C. E. night and Secretary E. T. Bailey will speak and Mr. Willard D. Beach will sing.

Vaccine Blamed For The Foot and Mouth Disease

The following article, taken from "Medical Reform," a Magazine published at Chicago by the National League for Medical Freedom, contains an article placing direct blame for the bringing of the foot and mouth disease into this country in other times and the article says that there is little doubt investigation will prove the source the same this time. The article was originally taken from the Des Moines Register and Leader, and was written by Hon. Charles W. Miller. He says, in part:

To the Editor: The last two outbreaks of foot and mouth disease in the United States had their origin in vaccine virus brought from abroad and when the investigation of the present scourge is completed it will undoubtedly be found that it had its origin from a similar source. And this same vaccine virus was used on thousands of human beings, as a protection against smallpox, before its contamination with the germ of the foot and mouth disease was established.

Melvin, at Washington, concerning the foot and mouth disease which is so great a menace to the herds of this vicinity at present, and Mr. Powers has received the following communications. Mr. Melvin's letter concerning the foot and mouth disease is one of the most interesting accounts that have yet been published and it has the added value of being authentic. The letter Mr. Powers wrote to Mr. Melvin and his answer follows:

Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., January 15, 1915.

My dear Sir: I am in receipt of your letter of the 10th instant requesting certain information regarding the foot and mouth disease. As I have covered practically all the questions in a letter to Mr. Will Miller of the Gazette, I am forwarding to you a copy of the letter sent him.

I regret very much that the farmers of Illinois are suffering such a severe blow on account of this disease, but the loss now will be small compared to what it may be in years to come unless the disease is effectually stamped out. Experience has shown that this can only be done by slaughter of infected herds and a thorough disinfection of infected premises.

Hoping that you may escape being visited by the plague, I am, Very truly yours, A. D. Melvin, Chief of Bureau.

January 12, 1915.

Mr. Will F. Miller, Sterling, Ill.

Dear Sir: Referring to your inquiry of January 5, in regard to the foot and mouth disease I have to reply that the course taken by the federal government and the several affected states in the present outbreak is the one which experience has shown to be the most certain for preventing the spread and for accomplishing the eradication of the disease; moreover, that it is the most economical one in the long run. In 1902 and again in 1903 the disease appeared in the United States and spread rapidly. Each of those outbreaks was quickly and completely suppressed by the same methods that are now being used. The present

WARSAW.

Warsaw, which has recently been occupying its usual historical position as a heroine in great peril, is the chief city of Poland, and third largest city in the Russian Empire. It had 800,000 people before the war began, in spite of the fact that its Jewish citizens were continually coming to America by the shipload, and its Polish citizens were going to Siberia in trainloads.

Warsaw is 700 miles from Petrograd, and about one million German lives from Berlin. It is situated on the beautiful Vistula river and is a city of great dignity and splendor being earnestly beloved and admired by all Poles. It does most of the manufacturing for Polish Russia, and supplies nearly all of its culture. Its university is greatly revered and has a larger library than any American university except Harvard, Yale and Columbia, though it has never as yet produced a single athlete who could get into the sporting extras.

Warsaw has many handsome palaces and theatres and has built a very attractive artificial ruin on an island to compete with the trade in older cities. Its best street is the Krakow.

(skic-Przedmiescie, which is almost that long and is lined with fine buildings. Warsaw also has a citadel, although this fact has not been noticeable in the present war.

The city first broke into the headlines in a modest way in 1224 but did not become a big leaguer until 1550, when it became capital of Poland and heir to all the troubles of that country. From that time on, capturing Warsaw has been a favorite European diversion. The Swedes captured it twice, the Germans once, the French once, the Austrians occasionally, the various Polish factions continually and Russians regularly. For the last hundred years Warsaw has been a Russian city, but it has revolted with great fury and considerable success on different occasions. The last outbreak was in 1863, and when the Russian government had finished quelling the disturbance it began asking the leading citizens to leave town. An American passenger agent would have wept with envy to see the trainloads of Warsaw taxpayers who left for Siberia—the longest haul in the world, and no excursion rates.

Warsaw is now being vigorously protected by the Russian government with even more shocking results than those which occurred while it was on the other side. However, rebuilding the city has always been a Warsaw talent, and in another twenty years it will be ready for an entirely new brand of trouble.

FAMILY JOURNAL PRAISES DR. CRYOR

FORMER DIXON PASTOR SUBJECT OF ARTICLE IN HERALD AND PRESBYTER.

The Herald and Presbyter, a Presbyterian family paper, has the following concerning Rev. S. S. Cryor, former pastor of the First Presbyterian church in this city:

The church at El Paso is prospering under the care of Rev. Dr. S. S. Cryor, who has been on the field since the beginning of this year. It has about 150 members, a good building, an efficient body of officers and good organizations in all departments. A new pipe organ has just been installed and the work of the church is encouraging. Rev. S. S. Cryor, D. D., Ph. D., was pastor of the Third Church of Cincinnati, O., from 1887 to 1890. He left on account of his wife's health, going to Minnesota. During his pastorate in the Third Church he received 225 members into the church. He went to Albert Lea, Minn., and was pastor there from 1890 to 1897. During that time he received 250 into the church. From Albert Lea he went to San Francisco to the Westminster church and was there from 1897 to 1900. During that time he received 180 new members. From San Francisco he went to Dixon, Ill., and was there 12 years. During that time he received 405 members into the church and raised for the church at different times nearly $8,000, putting in a new pipe organ and adding other improvements to the church. From Dixon he went to Oregon, Ill. He was there only eighteen months before coming to his present charge. While there 60 were added to the church and $7,000 raised for church improvements, one part of which was a new pipe organ, toward which Mr. Carnegie gave $1,000. He came to El Paso, Ill., at the beginning of the year 1914. During these few months thirty have been added to the church and $800 for a pipe organ secured from Mr. Carnegie. The additional funds necessary have also been raised and the organ is being installed. Before going to Cincinnati, Dr. Cryor had served Warren, Ill., and the Central Church of Rock Island, Ill. In the former place he married Miss Hattie Clark. The result of this union was six sons, five of whom are living. One was drowned two weeks after he was 21. During a ministerial service of 37 years, Dr. Cryor has had additions to the churches he has served at every communion service except three. From these different fields ten young people have gone into Christian work; five men into the Presbyterian ministry, four into foreign mission work and one into secretaryship of Y. M. C. A. work. Dr. Cryor is always looking for young men who will take up the ministry or foreign mission work. He has been interested in home mission and evangelistic work and has always been ready and willing to help his brethren in holding special services and in winning souls for Christ.

VACCINE BLAMED FOR DISEASE

exists to some extent among humans as well as among cattle, but the medical highbrows making the investigation, unwilling to cast any reflection upon their vaccination fetish, concluded that the infection was brought across the sea in hay, straw, or fodder, and since Mr. Clark's farm was near Massachusetts Bay, where trans-Atlantic steamers docked, their conclusion was generally accepted.

The following year the disease again manifested itself in some calves at Wakefield, Mass., which had been inoculated by Dr. E. E. Tyzzer, of Harvard Medical school, also with virus that came from Japan, and through his subsequent experiments proved beyond peradventure that the virus caused the disease, it was not until the outbreak of 1908 that the facts were permitted to become known.

The outbreak of 1908 first became manifest in a number of cattle occupying a pen in the stock yards at East Buffalo. It was learned that this pen had previously been occupied by some calves that had been used for the propagation of vaccine virus by a Detroit laboratory, and with this clue to work upon, the agricultural department at Washington aided by the Marine Hospital service, not only traced every case of the infection to these calves, but by experiments with the virus used by the Detroit laboratory, also a Japanese product, succeeded in producing the disease on every animal they experimented upon.

The vaccine manufacturers and medical profession were strong enough with the press correspondents to prevent more than a casual mention of these facts, but they were not strong enough with brave old Tama Jim Wilson to prevent his publishing a bulletin telling the story with all its garish details. This bulletin is described as Bureau of Animal Industry circular No. 147. I presume it is still in print, and I wish every man in Iowa would apply for a copy and carefully read it.

It is true that after the 1908 outbreak, the Marine Hospital service as the Washington Public Health service was then known, instituted a very rigid examination of the products of all vaccine manufacturers, but since the foot and mouth disease germ, as with the germ of smallpox, has never been isolated, these examinations can be of very little value. It is a very noteworthy fact however, that these examinations do reveal this. That no smallpox vaccine is absolutely pure, if this word may be defined to describe a product obtained from a running sore. Invariably the report on the smallpox vaccines approved by this service is "almost a total absence of other pathogenic germs." What are these "other pathogenic germs" that are thrown in as gratuities? Will some good doctor tell me if he knows. But without any expert testimony in this regard it will become apparent to any investigator that they are the germs of tetanus very frequently and probably most frequently those of syphilis or tuberculosis.

PAGE SAYS 25,000 ARE DEAD

Frequency of Shock Is Diminishing—Material Damage, It Is Estimated, Will Exceed $60,000,000—Many Citizens Are Camping Out for Fear of New Shocks.

Avezzano, Italy, Jan. 19.—Fresh troops reached the earthquake area and the work of rescue was continued with energy. It is interesting to note that the number of women being found alive is larger than the number of men. Women appear to have superior resisting powers. Six days after the disaster, several girls and old women were extricated from the ruins. All are injured, but the doctors hope to save them. A little boy also was found alive. He held in his hand a wooden horse, evidently a Christmas present.

Estimates of Dead Now 25,000.

Washington, Jan. 19.—The latest message from Ambassador Page at Rome said:

"Two parties from the embassy have visited the region desolated by the earthquake, covering a radius of some thirty miles. They corroborated the reports of terrible devastation. The government estimates 25,000 as the approximate figure for killed and wounded. Foreign countries are thanked for their sympathy, but owing to the international situation the government is not accepting foreign aid."

Quake Loss Is $60,000,000.

Rome, Jan. 19.—The frequency of the earthquake shocks is diminishing. The seismograph has registered only eleven in the last twenty-four hours in the region of Avezzano and Sora and none in Rome. The material damage, it is estimated, will exceed $60,000,000.

The pope, according to the Osservatore Romano, has sent aid to all the bishops of the diocese in the earthquake zone. A fund of $4,000,000 has been received by the pontiff thus far. About 7,500 refugees, 2,000 of them injured, have reached Rome to date. In dozens of villages citizens who escaped with their lives are still in poignant fear that new shocks will tumble their buildings about their heads and are camping out to avoid further danger.

If Not Up to Standard They Threaten Raid on Cellars.

Paris, Jan. 19.—The Germans have just demanded from the people of Bruges, Belgium, 300,000 bottles of wine which are to be supplied in January and February. The burgundy, berdeaux and champagne must be old and the bottles sealed.

The Germans threaten that if the wine is not up to the standard they will rifle all the wine cellars in the town.

Joe Killian Gets Oshkosh Club.

Oshkosh, Wis., Jan. 19.—Joe Killian of Oshkosh and Sterling, Ill., took over the base ball club which won three consecutive Wisconsin-Illinois league championships for the city of Oshkosh, after a conference with President John F. Klumwin, which may mean the final dissolution of the Killian-Klumwin combination.

Dementtown Doings

Talk to any man long enough and he will narrate some instance when the doctors gave him up.

"Where did you get that awful indigestion?"

"My wife tried to win my love through my stomach."

"Why did your wife leave you?"

"Force of habit, I guess. She was a cook before I married her."

Mr. Speedup—This is the fifth time you've been fined for speeding through Sistersville. Why don't you keep away from there?

His wife—That dear old justice of the peace out there gives trading stamps.

"My dear," said the proud father, "I cannot understand your objection to young Prudely as a suitor for your hand. I am sure that he is a model young man."

"There is no question about his being a model," replied the bewitching beauty, "but, father, dear, the trouble is that he is a 1912 model."

Dinah was a product of New Orleans, a big plumb, "yaller gal," who could cook the finest dinners for miles around. One day a new butler appeared upon the scene and Dinah's mistress noticed that she took great interest in the man. At last she could stand her curiosity no longer and asked:

"Dinah, do you know that new man?"

Dinah took another long and scrutinizing look, and then slowly and reminiscently replied:

"Well, I dunno, Miss Alice, but I think he was ma first husband!"

Made a Poor Choice.

Heck—In what state were you married?

Peek—In a state of mental irresponsibility.

No Place for Fido.

Mrs. Nextdoor (angrily)—I want you to keep your dog out of my house; it's full of fleas.

Mrs. Naylor—Your house is? Mercy! I certainly shan't let Fido go in there again.

Too Familiar.

"I suppose you are familiar with the works of Bobby Burns?"

"Certainly, and also with the works of Billy Shakespeare, George Byron and Jack Milton."

To Promote Peace.

Scribbler—I've a poem here advocating peace.

Editor—I suppose that you honestly and sincerely desire peace?

Scribbler—Yes, sir.

Editor—Then burn the poem.

"SYRUP OF FIGS" FOR CONSTIPATED CHILD

DELICIOUS "FRUIT LAXATIVE" CAN'T HARM STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember a good "inside cleaning" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

SUITOR SLAYS GIRL AT CHURCH SERVICE

Unrequited Love Leads to Double Tragedy at Peoria.

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 19.—Just after the opening prayer at the Sunday evening service in the Church of God, Frederick C. Erdman opened a side door and fired a revolver shot at his former sweetheart, Hattie Gauwitz, inflicting wounds which probably will prove fatal.

The entire congregation was immediately thrown into a panic and there was a wild rush for the doors. Several of the audience fell to the floor and were trampled. Erdman ran to the railroad yards, boarded a freight train and made his way to the south end of the city, where he took poison, then turned the revolver upon himself. He died within two hours. The girl, it is said, rejected his suit in favor of another.

MISSING FARMER RETURNS

Man Whom Clairvoyant Said Was Dead Comes Back.

Champion, Ill., Jan. 19.—Charles W. Sitts, a farmer, who has been mourned as dead and for whom $100 reward had been offered, has returned home. He said he had been in Chicago on business.

Sitts' wife offered the reward being impelled to do so by a clairvoyant, who told Mrs. Sitts that her husband had been robbed and slain.

Joseph Miller went to Chicago this morning on business.

STOMACH TROUBLE DUE TO ACIDITY

SO SAYS EMINENT SPECIALIST.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind, and stomach-ache are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind distends the stomach, and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the fermenting food. Such fermentation is not only unnatural, but may involve most serious consequences if not corrected. To stop or prevent fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid and render it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of disordered magnesia, probably the best and most effective corrector of acid stomach known, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, or whenever wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation, and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments. Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper antacid, such as bisaturated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.—M. F. P.

Second street and were guests at a dinner party.

At 6 o'clock the guests were invited to the dining room where a delicious four course dinner was served by the hostess. The table was artistically decorated, with a unique Indian basket filled with pink carnations and ferns as a centerpiece, while tiny crocheted baskets were used as favors. Covers were laid for sixteen.

After the dinner a business meeting was held and the following officers were elected for next year:

President—Mrs. Clara Hasselberg
Vice President—Miss Bertha Brass
Secretary and Treasurer—Mrs. Mollie Wilson.

Mrs. Frank Spiller, for the club, presented the hostess and one guest, Mrs. George Shaver, an older Past Grand of Minnie Bell Rebekah lodge, who spent the past week here visiting with relatives and friends, returning home to Brooksville, Miss., yesterday, each with a pretty birthday book. The remainder of the evening was spent in a social way, the guests departing at a late hour voting Mrs. Kennedy a splendid hostess and wishing her many more happy birthdays.

COMBING WON'T RID HAIR OF DANDRUFF

The Easiest and Best Way is to Dissolve It.

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to preserve your hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair more quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and every one notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

The program consisted of an interesting paper on "Etchings," read by Miss Garnett and Mrs. W. F. Strong favored with a piano number, which was greatly enjoyed by all.

Following the program a social hour was enjoyed and dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Abner Barlow of S. Galena avenue.

Returned from Mt. Morris.

Miss Alice Lehman and Samuel Lehman returned from Mt. Morris yesterday where they spent the week end with their cousins, Bertha and LeRoy Lehman, of Franklin Grove, who are attending college at Mt. Morris.

Pre-Nuptial Party.

Misses Alice and Martha McCoy were the hostesses to another pre-nuptial party last evening complimentary to Miss Gertrude Wilhelm whose marriage to Mr. Paul Snuck of Palmyra, will be one of the events of next month.

The affair took the nature of a 7 o'clock dinner, covers being laid for eight. The guests being the members of the Original Six club. The dining room was very attractive in its pretty decorations, the centerpiece of the table being a huge bouquet of red and white roses. A delicious three course dinner was served, after which the guests spent the evening in a social way during which a shower was given Miss Wilhelm.

O. E. S. Parlor Club.

The O. E. S. Parlor Club held their regular meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Wesley of South Crawford avenue. The hostesses of the afternoon were Mrs. H. L. Dolahan and Mrs. W. W. Wooley. There were about 45 members present. A short program of readings by Mrs. Adolph Eichler and Mrs. Dolahan and vocal numbers by Mrs. Lew Edwards and Mrs. Anita Kent, were enjoyed. The meeting adjourned to meet again in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Frances Decker Jeffries.

Ends Dry, Hoarse or Painful Coughs Quickly

A Simple, Home-Made Remedy, Inexpensive but Unexcelled

The prompt and positive results given by this pleasant tasting, home-made cough syrup has caused it to be used in more homes than any other remedy. It gives almost instant relief and will usually overcome the average cough in 24 hours.

Get 2½ ounces Pinex (50 cents worth) from any drug store, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. This makes a full pint—a family supply—of the most effective cough remedy at a cost of only 54 cents or less. You couldn't buy as much ready-made cough medicine for $2.50. Easily prepared and never spoils. Full directions with Pinex.

The promptness, certainty and ease with which this Pinex Syrup overcomes a bad cough, chest or throat cold is truly remarkable. It quickly loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals and soothes a painful cough in a hurry. With a persistent loose cough it stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the annoying hacking.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract rich in guaiaac and is famous the world over for its splendid effect in bronchitis, whooping cough, bronchial asthma and winter coughs.

To avoid disappointment in making this ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

LED TO OIL WELLS BY A "LOCATOR"

Let Others in Oklahoma Laugh While They Cash Their Faith in it for $300,000.

USES INSTRUMENT OF OWN MAKE

One Member of Firm Spots Oil with It But Admits Others Cannot Use Device.

For many years oil "locators" have been heard of nearly as much as water "divining rods." There are old and new "locators" but only a few old men believe in them. Among the few who have faith are Tippet and Canfield, operators in the Morris field in Oklahoma. They give their instrument credit for having brought them $300,000.

All other operators have been amazed at the success of Tippet and Canfield in finding good wells on territory ridiculed by the old timers. The "locator," which is the subject of discussion wherever oil men meet, belongs to Canfield. He does not talk about it much. He has nothing to sell. He admits that the instrument would not work for everyone and simply says: "There is oil down there," when his instrument tells him this is so. He does not disclose what manner of mechanism the "locator" is or any of the contents of the curious looking little cylinder from which extend two slender prongs. Holding these prongs as handles, Canfield says that when he passes over oil, no matter how deep in the earth it may be, there is a peculiar vibration and twitching of the handles, telling him of the presence of oil.

The partners seem to be the only ones who believe that the "locator" speaks the oil language, but Tippet and Canfield do not worry about what others think so long as they can cash their faith in it for $300,000 in six months.

Canfield has spent the last fifty-one years of his life in the oil game, operating from Canada to Texas. Tippet is a cattlemen from Gainesville, Texas, and admits his knowledge of steers is much greater than his knowledge of oil. After looking the Morris field over they leased 420 acres. Other oil men laughed at them, instead of drilling a test on their lease they commenced building tankage and power for pumping wells. In addition to this the land they had leased had, by all the rules of the oil game, already been proved dry because wells had been drilled all around it and all of them were dusters. It looked like the very wildest of all wild-cat speculations.

To those who cared to ask the elderly Canfield simply stated that his "oil locator" indicated that the 420 acres of land was over a lake of oil. Then the oil men smiled and gave it up. The first well was drilled and much to the surprise of everybody except Tippet and Canfield, it came in a good well. Then another and another well, the last always bigger than the preceding ones, until the "locator" lease became one of the valuable properties of the district, the last well coming in with 800 barrels a day.

When the oil men finally found that what had been thought a dry lease had reversed itself and proven to be a real producer, they were further amazed to find the wells, when they went out to locate them on their maps, also had been located contrary to all oil well rules. They were scattered haphazard all over the lease without regard to the usual distances for offsetting and boundary lines. When they were ready to locate a new well Canfield took his "locator" out and trotted about over the ground until the "locator" commenced its queer pranks that told him where the oil was. There he drove a stake and told the drillers to put up their rig. And every time the oil was found. It was this lease with its oil production that Tippet and Canfield sold for $300,000. They had already sold more than enough oil to pay all expenses and the $300,000 was net profit.

In the meantime while the negotiations were pending on this deal, Canfield took his "locator" and went over near Boynton and commenced to trot around over the land. This was also strictly a wildcat venture. Finally he appeared to be satisfied, drove a stake, went back and leased the land and ordered a driller to set up a rig. This was entirely virgin territory. On the day the deal for the first lease was closed for $300,000, the new Boynton well also came in a producer, not a large one, but good, just the same. Tippet explained that Canfield did not expect a big well on this location.

MORE BEEF FOR AMERICA.

At first blush it may seem ridiculous to consider seriously the statement of one of the members of the department of agriculture that before this war is over beef will be a rarity in this country. So sensational a prediction, however, calls attention to the fact that the United States with its hundreds of millions of acres of land, much of it producing very little, should be very far from a meat famine. But beef on the hoof at 10 cents a pound, with a multiplied price at retail, is proof convincing that this problem must be faced, if not before the close of this war, at least before very long.

The United States has always wasted its resources. And now when the cream of fertility is skimmed from our lands we are already talking of a food famine. Wisconsin farmers are straining to keep every cow their forage and milking help afford. When their pasture or winter feed supply can stand another cow, it is promptly added.

Not so in the south, where in some states cows average scarcely one or two to the farm. An average Iowa farm has 35 hogs, while a southern farm has frequently four or five, or even less. The average farm in many northern states has more than 100 head of poultry, compared to twenty or less in the south.

Apparently the south is capable of wonderfully increasing our meat supply. It has the advantage of mild winters, allowing cattle to forage all the year. It has vast areas of unused land which will produce grains and grasses. It has many large cities with a keen demand for meat products. In short, the south should be, and probably will be, the stockman's paradise. Surely these great farm opportunities cannot go by default much longer. — Milwaukee Journal.

INSTRUMENT OF ECONOMIC VALUE.

There were registered in the several states last year 1,808,441 automobiles, against 1,127,940 in 1913. At this extraordinary rate of increase of nearly 56,000 a month the country will have 2,000,000 automobiles in use by early spring.

Two million automobiles represent an investment for the buyers of at least $1,500,000. Placed end to end they would form a line stretching clear across the continent. Their upkeep and operation must cost per year nearly as much as the original cost of the machines. But they evidently pay, and more and more in a commercial sense, or they would not go on increasing so greatly in number, regardless of industrial depression and war disturbances. And in the great stimulus they have given to good roads construction they have had profound effect in improving the economy of the country.

The great war, indeed, has been demonstrating the peace value of the automobile in proving its military importance. It has been of vast and indispensable use in all the armies for the transport of supplies and the mobilizing and shifting of troops on the scale and with the rapidity which distinguish this war from all others. But for Paris' great supply of the machines the army for the defense of that city could never have been marshalled as it was at the critical moment to strike von Kluck on the flank and turn his swift advance eastward and backward.

The day of the automobile is evidently only at its beginning, and America is to lead the world in making it an instrument of economic value. — New York World.

THEY ARE FLOCKING BACK.

Freeport Journal: Recruits to the republican ranks and desertions of the third party are not confined to any particular section of the country. They are happening daily in all the states. One of the latest, according to a dispatch from Tacoma, is Lorenzo Dow, retiring prosecuting attorney of Pierce county, Washington, who has just announced his resignation as progressive national committeeman from that state, in a statement in which he says that "recent elections, general, as well as primary, would seem to sound the death knell of the progressive party and indicate that but two parties are destined to exist in this country, the republican and democratic." Mr. Dow announced that he would return to the republican ranks.

THE MAYORALTY SITUATION.

The possibility of Colonel Brinton's withdrawal from the race as a candidate for re-election as mayor puts a new complexion on the face of things, politically speaking. With Mayor Brinton running, the result was believed to be too sure to be exciting. If he cares to stay in the race, his friends believe he is sure of election. If he should withdraw, as it is rumored that he may, it is anybody's game and the mayor that Dixon may draw from the grab-bag is dimly defined, for there are sure to be more candidates in the field if the Colonel decides to drop out.

THE MERCIFUL MAN.

Oh, friend, protect your faithful steed, which cannot well explain its need, as human speakers do; it cannot tell a tale of woe, but for all comforts it would know your horse must look to you. When it is suffering distress it can't write letters to the press like wrathful human souls; beneath its burden it must pant; it has no vote, and so it can't rebuke you at the polls. When wintry tempests howl like sin you wrap yourself from heel to chin in things that keep you warm; into a cap your head you shove, and on each hand you put a glove, and you defy the storm. But Dobbin stands, tied to a post, out where the blizzard blazes most, with shaking bones and shews; if horses wept he'd shed some tears; he has no earmuffs on his ears, he has no overshoes. His silent protest is in vain, unless some humane officer should take him to the barn; you know your horse is freezing there, yet bask at ease and do not care the fraction of a darn. I do not see how any gent can sit around in calm content upon a stormy day, and know his horse is standing tied out where the wind can pierce its hide, and turn its blood to whey.

SUMNER SUE FOR $50,000

Iowa Lawyer Has New Bishop Served on Way Through State.

Boone, Ia., Jan. 19.—Bishop Walter T. Sumner was served with papers in a $50,000 libel suit as the Northwest train on which he was going to his new diocese of Oregon stopped at Boone. John Calvin Murray, the complainant, secretly boarded the train when it left Chicago Sunday night with the intention of "obtaining satisfaction" for a remark the bishop is said to have made a year ago when Murray, who had been divorced, was married at the Cathedral of St. Peter and Paul to a Miss Allen of Maquette, Ia.

The marriage of the divorced man caused trouble in the church and the then Dean Sumner is said to have remarked that the officiating priest was deceived by Murray, who is an attorney of Maquette.

Dramatic Notes

FAMILY THEATRE

The second installment of the Exploits of Elaine in two reels will be shown at the Family tonight. The first installments of this remarkable story of mystery and adventure was shown last week and aroused widespread interest. The story carries a unique fascination. It describes the troubles of Elaine, her victories and the budding of her love. It tells of the Clutching Lord's awful persecution of the beautiful millionaire girl and of the scientific detective, Craig Kennedy, and how he hunts the criminal. The story features Pearl White and Arnold Daly. Three other reels will be shown one called Percy Pimpickle, Soubrette, an Eclair comedy and a Lubin subject of Her Mother was a lady in two reels.

PRINCESS THEATRE.

Tonight Manager Slothower will show one of the best features ever seen at this theater. This feature is entitled "The Redemption of David Corson," with William Farnum in the leading role. This is the famous tale of a strong man's temptation, transgression and regeneration. David Corson, Quaker, recluse and mystic possessed of strong spiritual powers, walked with God and lived in a world of purity and sanctity. Then came the woman—and Satan came also.

Dr. Aeschulpius was a traveling quack. He found Peepeta, a Spanish beauty, whom a band of gypsies had stolen as a baby and he bought Peepeta from them, taking her as his wife.

Passing through David's town he hears of the young man's wonderful oratorical powers and the crafty doctor lures young David away.

Gradually, the love between David and Peepeta exceeded human bounds escaped beyond their control, and they followed the trail of the serpent. David urged her to flee with him, and the woman heeded and went with him to distant parts. The doctor followed them with furious vindictiveness, overtook them, and in a fierce struggle was left by David for dead. Tortured by the memory of having murdered the man who had befriended him, struggling against elemental passion David now cast all restraint aside and loosened the flood gates of vice and depravity. He becomes a drunkard and a gambler and descends into the dregs. The gentle Peepeta who had watched his degradation with a breaking heart, could no longer tolerate him, and she left.

The balance of the story tells how Peepeta won him back and of David's final redemption. It is a beautiful story and should be seen by everyone.

OPERA HOUSE.

It is not for a moment to be questioned that the actor-manager's laugh producing ability is constantly on the increase. Each evening for over two solid hours has he kept his audience in a continuous uproar and the unflinching enthusiastic reception which has been his proof positive of our German comedian's great popularity. His role tonight in the howling comedy drama "The Village President," is perfectly immense. Be convinced.

ELEVEN WHITE HOUSE BABIES

Eut Esther Cleveland is Only Child of President Born There.

Washington, Jan. 19.—Historians of the White House have put Mrs. Sayre's baby as the eleventh born in the executive mansion. The others were: James Madison Randolph, grandson of President Jefferson; Mary Louise Adams, granddaughter of President John Quincy Adams; four children of Major Andrew J. Donelson and Mrs. Emily Donelson, the latter the niece of President Andrew Jackson; Letitia and Robert Jones Tyler, grandchildren of President Tyler; Julia Grant, granddaughter of President Grant; Esther Cleveland, daughter of President Cleveland, born in 1892.

SECOND GAME AT 'Y'
ALLIES THIS EVE.

CHAPMAN'S AND GONNERMAN'S STALWARTS TO ROLL FOR HONORS TONIGHT.

YOUNG ATHLETES IN LEAGUE

Young Bowlers Form "Intermediate League" at "Y"—County vs. City Wednesday Evening.

The second game in the newly organized bowling league at the Y. will be played tonight between the Chapman and Gonnerman teams. These teams are now made up of six men, so that in case any one man can not be present for the contest it will not be necessary to draft a man from other teams in order to play. In case the six men report, the man to be eliminated from the playing will be the man making the third highest score in the preceding game, thus giving the two highest and two lowest men preference in playing in this particular contest.

Intermediate League.
The younger bowlers at the Y. have organized what will be known as the Intermediate league and it is the intention to play off the games mainly after school in the afternoon, although there will be some night games when the alleys are not in use by the older league. The boys met on Monday afternoon and selected teams as follows: Ackert, captain; Chapman Gardner, Raymond and Kelley.

Poole, captain; Vaughn, Weiner, Bart and Schuler.

Heick, captain; Altman, Hess, Dol-lahan and Traber.

Schuler, captain; Powell, Glessner, Holmes and Burrs.

City vs. Country.

On Wednesday evening the second contest in the bowling match between the "Country Jays" and the "City Breds" will be played at the Y. alleys. Four games are to be played in this contest, on each Wednesday night for four weeks. On last Wednesday night the latter team took three straight games. The team having the greatest number of pins to their credit at the close of the match will be banqueted by the losers.

TURKISH TROOPS QUIT ADRIANOPLE

Next to Constantinople, Most Important Moslem City.

VICTORIES CLAIMED BY FRENCH

Official Communication Says German Attacks Near Autrecht Were Repulsed With Heavy Loss—Foe Also Defeated at Crest 263—Heavy Snow
Is Handicap.

London, Jan. 19.—In a dispatch to Reuters Telegram company from Athens the statement is made that Adrianople, after Constantinople the most important city in European Turkey, has been abandoned by the Turkish garrison.

Paris, Jan. 19.—Two German assaults in force near Autrecht, north east of Vieux-Aisne, have been repulsed by the French with heavy loss,
according to reports received here.
The fighting there continues, with the Germans still trying to gain a foothold on the French positions.

The Germans have also attacked Crest 263, in the Argonne region, but
have been defeated with heavy loss.
They charged the French position
only to be met by a heavy artillery
fire, which killed and wounded many,
while the French losses are declared
to be inconsiderable.

The French are pushing their offensive in the Le Pretre woods, northwest of Pont-a-Mousson, and have captured several of the German outlying positions here. There is said to be very heavy snow in the Vosges
and in Alsace, but despite this handicap the Germans have bombarded Thann. Little damage is reported here, and the French are maintaining their positions.

From the North sea to the Oise
heavy cannonading continues, with
the heavy artillery of each side wiping out the houses and towns at several points.

Violent Storms Delay Operations.
A violent wind and rain storm has swept over the entire northern battlefield, adding to the discomforts of the armies. Entire lines of trenches
have been filled with water, the troops
having to withdraw from them to avoid being drowned. The storm has made impossible any attempted offensive by the Germans for several days in this section.

RONALDS INQUIRY REOPENED

Death of Mattoon, Ill., Woman Will Be Gone Into Further.

Mattoon, Ill., Jan. 19.—The inquiry
into the mysterious death of Mrs.
Harold F. Ronalds, the young wife
of Dr. Harold E. Ronalds of Mattoon,
is being resumed here by the coroner's jury. Mrs. Ronalds, who was prominent in this city, was found unconscious and dying in the kitchen of her home on Jan. 1. Bottles containing drugs lay near her. Her face and head were scratched and her lips
swollen as though she had swallowed poison. Everywhere were evidences of a struggle. The woman died without regaining consciousness.

C. O. Purcell and his wife, Ida, who were employed as servants, were arrested, and Dr. Ronalds has been under police observation ever since the crime. The servants asserted their ignorance of the affair. They had seen no one enter or leave the house, they claimed, and had not seen Mrs. Ronalds and had heard no cries for help.
Nothing was found on their clothing
to indicate either had taken part in a struggle.

URGE RUSS TO MAKE PEACE

German Aviators Drop Leaflets Telling of Moslem Uprising.

Petrograd, Jan. 19.—(Via Paris.)—
German aeroplanes have been dropping leaflets on the Russian lines,
one of which reads as follows:

"Russian soldiers, God has abandoned your standard. The sacrifices
you have made are useless. Hundreds of thousands of the best and most valiant of your comrades have fallen on the battle field and a new enemy, the most powerful and most dangerous of all, has appeared against the czar. A holy war has been declared against
you and your allies and you have lost
the game. Four hundred millions of men followers of the law of Mahomet,
located in three quarters of the world
are uniting to fight against you. Russian soldiers and friends: Demand
peace while there is yet time."

KARCH TAKES UP VOTE QUIZ

U. S. District Attorney in Danville Is Ready to Investigate Alleged Frauds.

Danville, Ill., Jan. 19.—Charles A.
Karch, United States district attorney, has arrived here. He stated he is ready to investigate alleged election
frauds in this federal district. A federal investigator, who is at work here,
was closeted with the attorney for an hour.

Hon. Len Small, the Cannon leader
of Kankakee county, and Charles P.
Hitch, the Cannon manager of Edgar county, are in Danville, but decline to discuss the matter further than to say they court an investigation.

fine of $1,000 or imprisonment for one year, or both. For armed resistance the maximum penalty is a fine
of $1,000 or imprisonment at hard labor for five years.

"They have no cause for resisting," Dr. Bennett said. "The government is paying them a good price for the animals killed."

Senator Sherman announced last evening in Washington that he would do all in his power to hasten a federal appropriation of $2,500,000 for the reimbursement of farmers who have lost livestock through the epidemic.

Chicago, Jan. 19.—A "pitchfork rebellion" against the killing of diseased cattle by federal and state authorities is threatened in central Illinois counties, is the belief of two officials of the department of agriculture. They have appealed to United States District Attorney Clyne for preparative measures of protection against farmers who are fired with
anger against the wholesale slaughter
of valuable stock in efforts to stamp
out the foot and mouth plague.

That a small army of United States
deputy marshals may back up with force the orders of the medical inspectors when farmers refuse to submit to quarantine restrictions and decrees of execution was forecast by
the reports of the federal complainants.

Calls Opposition Serious.

Mr. Clyne admitted that the opposition to killing cattle in the affected
counties was more serious than in Dupage county, where an injunction
has been obtained.

The appeal of the inspectors indicated the determination of the government medical experts to continue the killing of afflicted cattle, and their un-
shaken faith in the principle that extermination of diseased animals is the only sure remedy for the spread of the foot and mouth ailment. Mr.
Clyne said that the legal arm of the government would back this policy
with all firmness.

May Inspect Yards Today.

Mr. Clyne announced that he will probably visit the Union Stock yards
today and inspect the elaborate precautionary measures taken there for preventing the spread of the disease
to healthy cattle.

Will Try to Dissolve Order.

A motion will be made before Judge
Irwin at Geneva, Ill., on Wednesday
to dissolve the injunction against killing live stock, issued against the state veterinarian, Dr. O. E. Dyson, it was announced at Springfield. A conference was held, attended by Governor Dunne, Attorney General Lucey, the board of live stock commissioners and
Dr. Dyson.

Following the conference it was explained that Dr. Dyson did not order or authorize the killing of any live stock. It is part of his duty to diagnose the disease and notify the commissioners that certain cattle are affected. The commissioners then confer with the owner of the stock and agree upon a valuation.

POPE DECREES NEW EFFORT FOR PEACE

Two Days for Catholic Special Service and Prayer.

Rome, Jan. 19.—The most extensive spiritual movement to restore peace to
the warring nations that the Catholic church has undertaken since hostilities began is outlined in a decree
issued by Pope Benedict XV here.

In the decree the pope sets two days to be devoted by Catholic clergy
and laity throughout Christendom
to special services and prayers for the restoration of peace. Sunday, Feb.
7, is the day set by Pope Benedict on which the services are to be held in every Catholic church in Europe.

Sunday, March 21, will be the day for special services in churches in all parts of the world except in Europe.

The pope's decree exhorts clergy-
men and their flocks on these dates
not only to attend the special services of the day but by prayer, acts
of mortification and self denial invoke God to restore tranquility to a world now suffering expiation for its sins.

The decree orders that the blessed sacrament be exposed in the churches, that special masses be said, the rosary and litanies recited, the services to conclude with benediction of the blessed sacrament. A special plenary indulgence will be given during the service.

SHELLING CORN.

Fearing that the foot and mouth
disease may appear on their farms
and cause them to be quarantined,
many farmers are shelling their corn
and delivering it to market.

Arthur E. Pest of Chicago was transacting business with the various confectionary stores in this city
today.

ARTICLE ON THE CATTLE DISEASE

outbreak has been so extended as to demand extraordinary effort for its control but in practically every infected district the effort has been successful. I note what you say
as to the conditions in Whiteside
county, and regret that you view
them in so unfavorable light. I am thoroughly confident, however, that if the people of the county will lend
their intelligent and effective co-operation in the enforcement of the necessary quarantines and will give
to those entrusted with the work of eradicating the disease their hearty
support, that success will very soon
follow in Whiteside county also.

Foot and mouth disease is the most intensely infectious animal disease known, and its character is such that were it to escape control
and become fixed over a wide area it
undoubtedly would every year cause losses and damage far in excess of what it will cost to completely eradicate it by slaughter of the infected herds. The disease is of such a nature that well cared for animals are as susceptible to it as those which have been poorly cared for and the use of medicines and disinfectants
will not protect them from an attack if they have already been exposed to the infection. Therefore,
it is of supreme importance that all
owners and keepers of cattle, sheep
and other ruminants and swine exercise the utmost care to prevent the exposure of their animals. The mediums and avenues by which the infection may be carried from one
herd to another appear to be innumerable. The most of these are well known and may be anticipated
and infection prevented by the exercise of the required care. Until the disease has been eradicated under no circumstance should any animal of a herd be allowed to come in contact with an animal of another
herd nor should new animals be added to the herds. Visits by the owner or his help should cease absolutely, and visits to his by his neighbors and others should be strictly prohibited. Further, in those localities where the sale of slaughter animals is allowed under the quarantine from promises, on which the infection does not exist,

butchers and stock dealers who by nature of their business are in a position more than many others to pick up the infection and unconsciously carry it from one premise to another, should be required to dis-
infect their foot wear before entering the place and be forbidden to touch animals or to enter stables or feed lots and should be required to stand outside such places when examining slaughter animals for purchase. Dogs, cats, poultry and pigeons should be confined so as to prevent the possibility of their coming
into contact with and becoming carriers of the infection. If crows frequent the premises they should be shot. If it becomes necessary to buy hay, straw or fodder, such materials should be bought only after investigation has shown that the place from which they are to be moved
is free from the disease. The precautions outlined carefully observed are reasonably certain to prevent infection. In this connection
it should be added that in some communities there arises a fear that the inspectors engaged in the work of eradication may carry the infection.
This fear is not warranted. The regularly appointed inspectors are properly clothed for the work and they exercise every care necessary to prevent this.

Some persons contend that because of a high per cent of the affected animals can be cured of the disease that they should not be destroyed but held under quarantine
until fully recovered. The fallacy of this contention has been repeatedly demonstrated in several foreign countries where this method has been tried without success. It is impracticable under the conditions that usually obtain to enforce a quarantine sufficiently strict to prevent the spread of the disease. The immediate slaughter of the affected animals and the cleaning and disinfection of the premises as soon as possible constitute the only known practical and effective method for accomplishing this object, and it has been adopted by Denmark, England, Australia, as well as by the United States. The fact that many infected animals remain a source of infection for weeks and months after
they have apparently made a complete recovery is in itself sufficient
to show why the efforts at eradication by quarantine alone have failed.

With reference to owners refusing to permit the slaughter of infected herds, I have to state that this department does not compel any

owner to slaughter, but the department approves eradication by slaughter and urges its adoption by the states in which the infection is found.
The power to compel slaughter lies with the state. In Illinois the authorities have, if I am correctly informed, full power to enforce appraisal and slaughter of condemned herds. If in any case compulsory slaughter is resorted to by the state
because of the owners' refusal to accept appraisal and permit slaughter,
the amount to which such owner
shall be reimbursed will be determind
entirely by the state, while the federal government will not be under obligation to pay any part of the reimbursement. If owners of infected herds refuse permission and the state does not enforce slaughter the only course open to the department
will be to continue to hold the county, and under certain conditions possibly the entire state under quarantine against interstate shipment of cattle, sheep and swine, and certain
materials until all danger of infection has been removed. Such action will be necessary to prevent the spread of the infection to other states.

The federal government and the
several affected states are co-operating closely in the eradication of the disease. A bill is now before the United States Congress providing for the appropriation of a fund sufficient to enable the department to pay 50 per cent of the appraised value of the animals destroyed under the present plan and also 50 per cent
of the cost of cleaning and disinfect-
ing the premises and for reimbursing
owners for property destroyed in the process of disinfection. It is expected that the legislature of each of the affected states will appropriate the funds to enable the authorities
to pay the other 50 per cent of such expenditures in their own state.

I trust that the people of White-
side county will as already suggested lend their fullest support to the present plan of eradication and that you will give the views and information
contained herein the widest publicity possible. I am, yours very truly,
Chief of Bureau.

The Exploits of Elaine

A Detective Novel and a Motion Picture Drama

By ARTHUR B. REEVE
The Well-Known Novelist and the Creator of the "Craig Kennedy" Stories

Presented in Collaboration With the Pathe Players and the Eclectic Film Company

Copyright, 1914, by the Star Company. All Foreign Rights Reserved.

Just back of us, and around the corner, as we came in, we had noticed a limousine which had driven up. Three faultlessly attired dandies had entered a doorway down the street, as we learned afterward, apparently going to a fashionable tailor's which occupied the second floor of the old-fashioned building, the first floor having been renovated and made ready for renting. Had we been there a moment sooner we might have seen, I suppose, that one of them nodded to a taxicab driver, who was standing at a public hack stand a few feet up the block. The driver nodded unostentatiously back at the man.

In spite of the excitement, Kennedy quietly examined the showcase, which was, indeed, a veritable treasure store of brilliants.

Slowly the hands of the clock came nearer together at noon.

We all gathered about the showcase, with its glittering hoard of wealth, forming a circle at a respectable distance.

In deep-lunged tones the clock played the chords written, I believe, by Handel. Then it began striking. Nothing had happened.

We all breathed a sigh of relief.

"Well, it is still there!" exclaimed Martin, pointing at the showcase with a forced laugh.

Suddenly came a rending and crashing sound. It seemed as if the very floor on which we stood was giving way.

The showcase, with all its priceless contents, went smashing into the cellar below.

The flooring beneath the case had been cut through!

All crowded forward, gazing at the black yawning cavern.

Down below, three men, covered with smocks and their faces hidden by masks, had knocked the props away from the ceiling of the cellar, which they had sawed almost through at their leisure, and the showcase had landed eight or ten feet below, shivering into a thousand bits.

A volley of shots whizzed past us, and another. While one crook was busily stuffing the untold wealth of jewels into a burlap bag the others had drawn revolvers and were firing up through the hole in the floor desperately.

"Look out!" cried someone behind us before we could recover from our first surprise and return the fire.

One of the desperadoes had taken a bomb from under his smock, lighted it and thrown it up through the hole in the floor.

It sailed up over our heads and landed near our little group, on the floor, the fuse sputtering ominously.

I heard an exclamation of fear from Elaine. Kennedy had pushed his way past us and picked up the deadly infernal machine in his bare hands.

I watched him, fascinated. As near as he dared, he approached the hole in the floor, still holding the thing off at arm's length. Would he never throw it?

He was coolly holding it, allowing the fuse to burn down closer to the explosion point.

It was now within less than an inch of sure death.

Suddenly he raised it and hurled the deadly thing down through the hole.

We could hear the imprecations of the crooks as it struck the cellar floor, near them.

"Leave the store—quick!" rang out Kennedy's voice.

Down below the crooks were beating a hasty retreat through a secret entrance which they had effected.

"The bag! The bag!" we could hear one of them bellow.

"The bomb—run!" cried another voice gruffly.

The explosion that followed lifted us fairly off our feet.

As the smoke from the explosion cleared away, Kennedy could be seen, the first to run forward.

Meanwhile Martin's detectives had rushed down a flight of back stairs that led into a coal cellar. With coal shovels and bars, anything they could lay hands on, they attacked the door that opened forward from the coal cellar into the front basement where the robbers had been.

A moment Kennedy and Bennett paused on the brink of the abyss which the bomb had made, waiting for the smoke to decrease. Then they began to climb down cautiously over the piled-up wreckage.

The explosion had set the basement afire, but the fire had not gained much headway by the time they reached the basement. Quickly Kennedy ran to the door into the coal cellar and opened it.

From the other side Martin, followed by the police and the detectives, burst in.

"Fire!" cried one of the policemen, leaping back to turn in an alarm from the special apparatus upstairs.

All except Martin began beating out the flames, using such weapons as they already held in their hands to batter down the door.

To Martin there was one thing paramount—the jewels.

In the midst of the confusion, Elaine, closely followed by her friend, Susie, made her way fearlessly into the stifling of smoke down the stairs.

"There are your jewels, Mr. Martin," cried Kennedy, kicking the precious burlap bag with his foot as if it had been so much ordinary merchandise, and turning toward what was in his mind the most important thing at stake—the direction taken by the agents of the Clutching Hand.

WHAT'S INDIGESTION? WHO CARES? LISTEN

"PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN" MAKES A SORE, GASSY STOMACH FEEL FINE AT ONCE.

Time it! In five minutes all stomach distress will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness, belching of gas, acid, or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest and most certain indigestion remedy in the whole world, and besides it is harmless.

Millions of men and women now eat their favorite foods without fear—they know Pape's Diapepsin will save them from any stomach misery.

Please, for your sake, get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store and put your stomach right. Don't keep on being miserable—life is too short—you are not here long, so make your stay agreeable. Eat what you like and digest it; enjoy it, without dread of rebellion in the stomach.

Pape's Diapepsin belongs in your home anyway. Should one of the family eat something which don't agree with them, or in case of an attack of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or stomach derangement at daytime or during the night, it is handy to give the quickest, surest relief known.

PENN CORNERS

Pennsylvania Corners, Jan. 18.—Mrs. R. L. Brooks is seriously ill with bronchial pneumonia. Dr. Werren of Dixon has been called.

The social of last Wednesday at the "Corners" was exceedingly well attended and enjoyed by all, a neat little sum being realized beyond expenses. Visitors from Oregon, Polo, Dixon, Stratford, Oak Ridge and Woosung were present, renewing old acquaintances. William Smith and family of Mason City, Iowa, were also guests, having stopped off a few days on their return trip from Maryland.

Mrs. Frederic Mathias and daughter, Ruth of Dixon, are at the R. L. Brooks' home, having been called there by Mrs. Brooks' illness.

Mrs. Ira Butterbaugh is reported as recovering, also William Powell is convalescing.

No new cases of foot and mouth disease are reported in this vicinity, although there is considerable agitation felt among the farmers.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stouffer entertained a few friends Thursday evening. Dominoes were the feature of the entertainment of the evening.

Horse buyers were quite numerous in this locality the present week, and they appear to be making a thorough canvass.

William Pettit is said to be quarantined at the C. C. Barnett farm, 3 miles south of here. Mr. Pettit is helping with the excavation, having had experience at the Charles Houpt farm. Mr. Houpt's place is being thoroughly disinfected by the proper authorities.

Mr. and Mrs. George Engel from near Dixon were Friday callers at the J. F. Bovey home.

Ed Nettz and Dave Bovey are hauling oats to Woosung having sold a portion of their crops at the top of the market—19 cents.

Mrs. V. H. Bovey and Asa Cantinill spent Thursday at the William Bovey home.

H. H. Powell is refilling his coal bins with some of the H. A. Parks (Farmers' Coal) at Woosung.

Jacob Beard of Woosung was a Friday visitor here.

Misses Seyster and Ambrose expect to leave for Chicago Monday.

V. H. Bovey was out Saturday doing some telephone repairing on the local line from Grand Detour.

John Cunningham of Waterloo, Iowa, made a stop-over visit with his parents. Mr. Cunningham was making the return trip from the Chicago market.

FARMERS! YOU CAN SAVE $1.00

Dixon Evening Telegraph, by mail, 1 year $3.00
DAILY
Orange Judd Farmer, 1 year $1.00
WEEKLY
DAILY
Both $3.00
To one address

THIS Is a most unusual offer and a remarkable bargain —prices have been slashed. By dividing the expense between ourselves and the publishers of ORANGE JUDD FARMER, this special price is possible, and you can save $1.00.

ORANGE JUDD FARMER, published at Chicago, Ill., was established in 1885. It is the best farm journal for Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Missouri, Kansas and the west. With over 750,000 readers, it is still locally adapted to your own home state.

ORANGE JUDD FARMER represents a great constructive force in agriculture—the foremost apostle of better homes, better schools, better living, better farming and larger progress.

ORANGE JUDD FARMER carries regular departments covering live stock, poultry husbandry, truck farming, fruit and orchard farming, soil and land management, agricultural engineering, dairying, farm crops, veterinary department, forestry and landscape gardening, farmers' organizations, home and house hold department and a continued story.

ORANGE JUDD FARMER supplies a special service to its subscribers. There are but two crop reporting agencies in this country—the Orange Judd system and the Federal Bureau. The government reports are issued from the standpoint of every body—producer, consumer, middlemen and speculator; the Orange Judd reports are primarily and solely in the interests of the producer. These reports cover everything, and if followed closely save hundreds of dollars in the course of a year.

ORANGE JUDD FARMER'S editorial policy is fearless, able, constructive; it champions the needs, rights, duties and privileges of our farmers and their families. It co-operates with every kind of farming. Its editor believes in the new agriculture and stands on the platform for a square deal for all workers.

ORANGE JUDD FARMER is the great home weekly, not only for the father and son, but also for the mother and daughter, who perform so important a part in making a real success of the American farm home.

This briefly outlines just a few of the many features that go into each issue of the ORANGE JUDD FARMER—from 20 to 40 or even 60 pages or more each week. Over 1500 big pages and 1500 pictures in a year's numbers—more than 600 columns—enough to make twenty books that sell for $1.00 each.

New subscribers to the Evening Telegraph, or old subscribers whose subscriptions have run out and who wish to renew their subscriptions are eligible to get the Orange Judd Farmer Free by paying only the regular price of the Evening Telegraph for one year.

Uncared-For-Orchards Breed Insects and Fungous Diseases

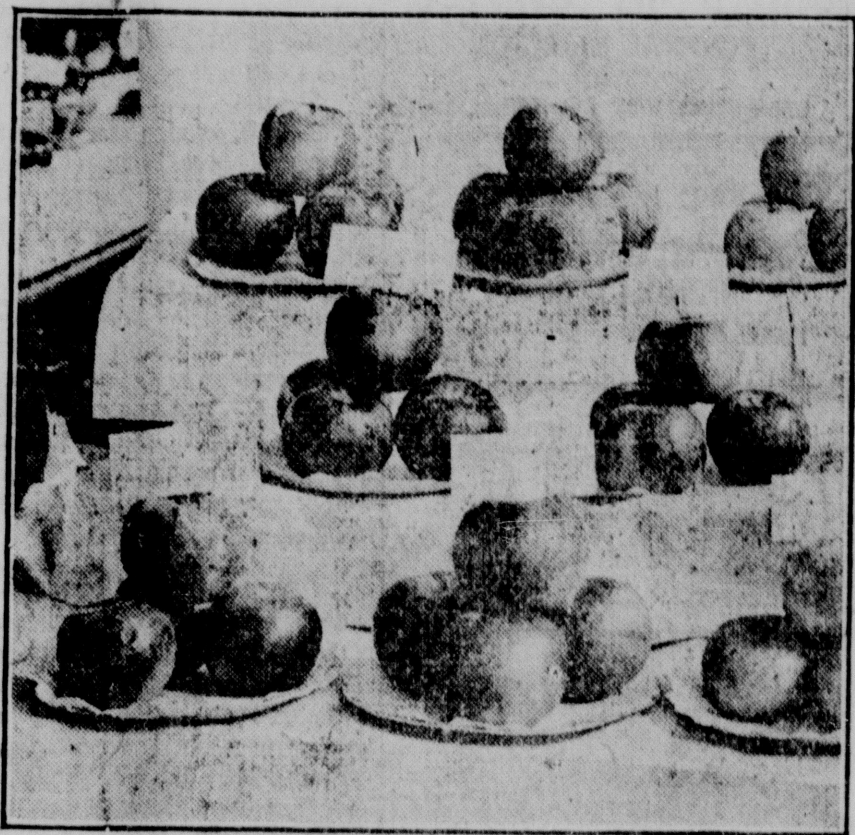

Such Yards Should Either Be Attended to or Disposed of as They Are a Menace to Others.

By W. S. Peerrine, President's Address to State Horticultural Society.

The horticultural interests of the state of Illinois are very great and the problems many, especially in the southern district. We have thousands of acres of neglected orchards. If they had been cared for in time, every acre could have been made profitable, but at the present time, many of these orchards are past the point where they can be renovated and cared for profitably. Such orchards should be usually good—about the best I ever saw in our solid block Ben Davis orchards.

Just about the time the apples were nicely set and the crop looked most promising, spur blight began to appear. At Centralia it was so severe as to take practically the entire crop on some varieties, and all varieties were affected more or less. Duchess was one of the worst affected, Ben Davis the least. Other varieties badly hurt were Benoni, Chenango, Bluch, Guimes, Jonathan and Yorks. Many hundreds of fruit spurs were killed on cut down, and the sooner the better. They are simply sources of infection of all sorts of insects and fungous diseases. They make it doubly hard for the grower who is caring for his orchards and is trying to produce profitable crops of high grade fruit. Therefore I think that orchard-owners who cannot or will not care for their trees, should be encouraged, if not compelled to cut them down.

Just now vast sums of money are being spent by the state and national government to try to stamp out the foot and mouth disease among hogs and cattle and it is all right. Why, then, maintain orchards that are of no profit, but only a constant menace to the cared-for orchards. If these old orchards are reasonably free from decay, the owners should thoroughly care for at least part of them, and as soon as possible, dispose of the rest of them, by selling, leasing or cutting down.

Young orchards of moderate size should be planted. A few of the best known and thoroughly tested varieties should be so mixed in planting, that at least three varieties will be brought into close proximity to secure the largest possible benefit from cross pollination.

I venture the prediction that such an orchard, well cared for, will be extremely profitable.

The year 1914 will be remembered by many apple growers as the Jonah or the hoodooed year. The winter preceding was a mild one. The bloom was rather light, due to the extreme drought and in some cases to a very heavy crop in 1913. However, there was enough bloom to have made a good average crop. The weather was generally favorable at blooming time, and as a result the set was una single tree and the vigor of the tree greatly reduced. Varieties were differently affected in different sections. This was the severest and most widely distributed attack of blight ever known.

Many growers contend that the pear has nothing to do with this spur blight of the apple. I think, however, the evidence will show that the sections that have the most pear trees, have the blight in the apple orchards the oftener and the most severely.

To further reduce our chances, the drought of 1913 was repeated in 1914, but with greater severity as it started in earlier and lasted longer with hotter weather. These two extremely dry seasons led to the worst infestation of codling moth ever experienced, at least in southern Illinois. Many of our best growers did not succeed in controlling the moth even with more and better spraying than ever before.

The reason the codling moth was not controlled, seems to be that the growers failed to change the time and method of application, to suit the changed habits of the codling moth, rather than to the poor quality of the brands of poison used. Hardly a first brood worm could be found that had entered the calyx the last two seasons, but plenty that had entered on the side of the apple. It would seem that it is more important to protect the sides of the apples with poison just as the first brood is hatching, than to full the calyx. I would therefore recommend a good calyx spray as usual and then a double spray as the first brood is hatching and one of these sprays with poison alone. Station experiments and the experience of some growers have shown that lead arsenate is more effective when applied alone, than in combination with a fungicide.—Extract from Address.

PASTEURIZING MILK SUPPLY

Consumption of Raw Milk Is Just as Dangerous as Use of Raw Meat.

While the outbreak of foot and mouth disease has done much to the general public in bringing home to them the fact that raw milk is quite liable to be the avenue through which various diseases are carried. The consumption of raw milk is just as dangerous as the consumption of raw meat. It does not seem so to us because custom sanctions the use of raw milk and frowns upon the raw meat. In some other countries the custom is just the reverse. There are some hundreds of serious epidemics upon record where the disease germs have been carried through the milk.

The process of pasteurization employed here is to heat the milk to a temperature of 140-145 degrees F. for thirty minutes and then promptly cool. This will be found to produce no changes in the milk which will be readily apparent to the senses, but careful investigations have shown that this treatment will destroy the germs of the various diseases which might have found their way into the milk. The most careful study of such pasteurized milk has failed to detect any changes in its food value or digestibility.

Another advantage which the pasteurization process brings about is the opportunity it offers to keep the milk supply at a uniform composition. In handling raw milk it is necessary to get the milk from the cow to the bottle as promptly as possible. Since our herd contain cows of the various breeds this has resulted in a supply with varying amounts of fat in the different bottles. During the process of pasteurization the entire milk supply is placed in large vats and mixed during the heating process with a resulting uniform daily composition of the milk which will be very acceptable, especially to those preparing the milk for the use of small children.—Dr. H. A. Harding, Dairy Department, University of Illinois.

A remedy especially for sick kidneys.

Endorsed in Dixon by your friends and neighbors.

N. W. Beal, 620 College Ave., Dixon, says: "For a long time I had kidney trouble and it showed itself in various ways. I had rheumatic twitches, my back was stiff and lame and after bending over, I could hardly straighten. When I was suffering intensely, I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Leake Bros.' drug store. They gave me wonderful relief in a short time and I still use them, keeping my kidneys in good shape. All I said in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago holds good and I am glad to confirm that statement."

Mr. Beal is only one of many Dixon people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills.
